

PRIVATE ALTERNATIVE LOAN DISCLOSURE

Private Educational loans are NOT part of the William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program, and do not enjoy the same benefits as either the Federal Direct Student Loans or Federal Direct Parent PLUS or Federal Direct Graduate PLUS loan programs.

Private educational loans, also known as alternative loans, can be helpful in bridging the gap between the total cost of your education and what you receive in financial aid. Private loans are offered by private lenders who set their own rules and regulations. Eligibility for private loans often depends on your credit score. The interest rates charged on private loans can be either fixed or variable in nature depending on the loan, and may be higher than the interest rates charged on Federal loans. Further, private loans may charge additional fees. These extra fees combined with the high interest rate mean that private loans may cost more than loans offered by the Federal government.

Students considering private educational loans should first consider Federal loans. Federal loans (such as the Stafford loans, the Parent PLUS and Grad PLUS loans) have a variety of benefits that are not available with private loans. Federal loans have a fixed interest rate and offer flexible repayment plans. St. Joseph's University fiscal year 2021 three year cohort default rate for federal student loans is 0%. Private loans should only be considered after all other sources of financial aid are exhausted.

By signing below, I acknowledge receipt of this disclosure form. I acknowledge that the Office of Financial Aid has advised me of all the financing options available to me. I wish to proceed with my private alternative loan, even though I understand it may be less advantageous than the Federal loan programs for which I may be eligible.
